BMA Law Society Consent Form

BMA/The Law Society consent form

Consent form (Releasing health records under the General Data Protection Regulation and the Data Protection Act 2018)

Your health records

Your health records typically contain information from almost all consultations and contacts you have had with health professionals in the practice and information sent to the practice about you from others, such as hospital letters.

The information they contain usually includes:

- why you saw a health professional;
- details of clinical findings and diagnoses, investigations, tests and scans;
- any options or recommendations for care and treatment the health professional discussed with you;
- the decisions made about your care and treatment, including evidence that you agreed; and
- details of actions health professionals have taken and the outcomes.

Why your records are needed and what may happen to them

If you are making, or considering making, a legal claim for compensation related to an injury to your health, your solicitor will likely need to see copies of all your GP records. They will also need any hospital records made in connection with the incident and others that may be relevant. This is to enable the solicitor to understand the incident and your injury and give you legal advice on the merits and value of your claim.

If you decide to go ahead with your claim, your solicitor may advise that it is sensible (or that it may be necessary) to give copies of your records to:

- the expert whom your solicitor or agent instructs to produce a medical report as evidence for the case;
- the insurance company for the person or body you are making a claim against;
- the person or the body you are making a claim against and/or their solicitors;
- any insurance company or other organisation paying or providing an indemnity for your legal costs; and
- any other person (such as a barrister) or body (such as the court) officially involved with the claim.

Once you start your claim, the court can order you to give copies of your health records to the solicitor of the person you are making a claim against so he or she can see if any of the information in your records can be used to defend his or her client. The solicitor of the person or body you are making the claim against will likely show your records to their client in the normal course of advising them and may show them to others too (such as a barrister or medical expert). If the person you are making the claim against does not have a legal representative the court can order you to give copies to them directly.

You do not have to give permission for your health records to be obtained and disclosed in your case but if you don't, it is unlikely that your claim will be able to proceed if the medical records are crucial evidence in your claim. The court may not let you go ahead with your claim and your solicitor may be unable to continue to represent you.

If there is very sensitive information in the records that is not connected to the claim you should tell your solicitor. They will then consider whether this information may be relevant and needs to be disclosed in the case. Your solicitor can advise you on this and if appropriate may advise you to discuss the matter with your medical practitioner.

Important

By signing this form, you are agreeing to the health professional, hospital and others named on this form releasing copies of your health records to your solicitor or agent. During the process your records may be seen by people who are not health professionals, but they will keep the information confidential.

To health professionals

I understand that filling in and signing this form gives you permission to give copies of all my health records including complete GP records, and any hospital records relating to this incident, to my solicitor or agent whose details are given below.

Please give my solicitor or agent copies of my health records, in line with the Data Protection Act 2018, within 30 days.

Part c – your solicitor’s or agent’s declaration and signature

Before you ask your client to fill in and sign this form you should ask your client to read the notes above. You should explain that signing this form will permit release of his or her complete health records and how the information in them may be used. You should explain that this form only applies to the release of the medical record to you and that separate consent will be obtained for any onward disclosures which are required.

If your client is not capable of giving his or her permission in this form, it may be possible for someone to give consent and sign it on their behalf, for example:

- your client’s litigation friend;
- someone who has enduring/lasting power of attorney to act for your client; or
- your client’s deputy appointed by the Court of Protection.

You must only use health records for specific purposes that your client has agreed to in advance.

Under the General Data Protection Regulation and Data Protection Act 2018 you have responsibilities relating to sensitive information. The entire health record should not be revealed without the client’s permission and you should not keep health records for any longer than is necessary for agreed-to purposes. You should return copies of health records to the client at the end of the claim if they want them. If they do not want them, you will be responsible for confidentially destroying them.

Notes for the medical records controller

This form shows your patient’s permission for you to give copies of his or her complete record, and any hospital and other records relating to this incident, to his or her solicitor or agent.

You must give the solicitor or agent copies of these health records unless any of the exemptions set out in Schedules 3 and 4 of the Data Protection Act 2018 apply. The main exemptions are that you must not release information that:

- is likely to cause serious physical or mental harm to the patient or another person; or
- relates to someone who would normally need to give their permission (where that person is not a health professional who has cared for the patient).

Your patient’s permission for you to release information is valid only if that patient understands the consequences of his or her records being released, and how the information will be used. The solicitor or agent named on this form must explain these issues to the patient. If you have any doubt about whether this has happened, you should contact the solicitor or agent, or your patient.

This form does not contain a comprehensive statement of solicitors’ or health professionals’ obligations under the relevant data protection legislation. If you are in any doubt about your legal obligations, seek advice.

The BMA publishes detailed guidance for doctors on giving access to health records. You can view that guidance by visiting: www.bma.org.uk/ethics.

This form is published by the Law Society and British Medical Association. (3rd edition, October 2018).

I write further to our previous correspondence.

Thank you for agreeing to give evidence in the claim being brought by { MERGEFIELD
"LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_SURNAME_1" }. I understand that you are able to give evidence about [DETAILS OF INFORMATION OR EVENTS TO BE COVERED BY WITNESS STATEMENT].

I thought it would be useful if, at this stage, I set out the steps that will be taken to prepare your witness statement. I have also included some general advice on how to prepare to give your evidence and how to deal with cross-examination by the other side's representative.

Your witness statement

Early preparation of your statement will ensure that:

- a) Your recollection is set down on paper while matters are as fresh in your mind and before they are subject to challenge;
- b) You have a proper opportunity to think about the matters and/or events you are dealing with and your evidence is presented in a clear and logical fashion;
- c) You have the chance to thoroughly consider any documents referred to in your statement;
- d) The words used in the statement are your own, you are comfortable with what you have said, and you are not committed to say anything that you do not really mean; and
- e) We can identify any areas of difficulty or concern at an early stage so that you can be properly prepared to deal with them at the hearing.

Preparing for the hearing

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\NeilB\\OneDrive - PRACCTICE
LTD\\Documents\\OspreyOfficeGateway\\footer.doc"}

Once your statement has been finalised, in preparation for giving evidence at the hearing you should practise reading your statement slowly out loud a number of times. Doing this should avoid two situations that commonly make witnesses look foolish and damage their credibility:

- a) A witness who reads out their statement in a faltering fashion suggests that the words they are reading are unfamiliar. The court may conclude that the words they are hearing are not their own; or
- b) A witness contradicts their statement when they answer a question in cross-examination.

A witness who remains calm and sticks to their evidence is difficult for even a skilled cross-examiner to undermine.

Giving evidence at the hearing

When you are called to give evidence, you will be asked to take the oath. This will involve either swearing on a holy book or, if you are not religious, affirming. Our representative will then ask you to take the court through your account of what happened. They will ask questions as required. These questions will also enable you to get comfortable with the process of answering questions before the court.

Once our representative has finished asking you questions, the other party's representative will have the opportunity to cross-examine you. Since this is the part of giving evidence that most often worries witnesses, I have set out some advice below about how to give evidence effectively when being cross-examined.

After you have been cross-examined, our representative will be permitted to ask you further questions about matters that have come up during your cross-examination.

How to give evidence effectively

This is very simple: do what the oath requires of you. Tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Dealing with possibilities

You should only tell the court things you know for a fact. The cross-examiner may ask you to speculate about whether it is possible that a particular event occurred. Contrary to what is commonly assumed, you cannot refuse to answer a question merely because it is hypothetical. The issues commonly dealt with by courts often involve the consideration of hypothetical matters.

If you are asked whether something was possible, unless you tell the court how likely you think it was they will be left guessing. Therefore, if you think that there was a slight possibility of that something happening or having happened, rather than saying that it was possible you should let the court know how likely it was. For example, you could say that it was possible but would have been very unlikely.

When you can't remember something

If you have no recollection of something you are asked about, don't be tempted to tell the court what you assume must have happened as if you know it for a matter of fact. You should say that you do not recall the particular matter in issue but think it likely that a particular scenario would have happened and explain why you think that to be the case. Be honest or the cross-examiner will force you to admit you can't remember and you will look foolish for not having been honest in the first place.

Being asked for a yes or no answer

The most popular line of attack for a cross-examiner is the closed question. You will become familiar with the phrase "it's a yes or no answer". You probably won't agree.

The temptation when faced with an unreasonably restrictive question is to not answer it and instead to answer the question you think you should have been asked. However, this will make you appear evasive and unhelpful and will not endear you to the court. It is better to either answer yes or no, but to state that is not a complete answer and there are other things the court should know in order to be able to understand it. Then, the court will either let you expand your answer immediately or you will at least have brought your representative's attention to this issue as being one that you should be taken back to in re-examination.

Answer the question and avoid repetition

You should keep your answers to the questions that you are asked. You can undermine your credibility and the strength of your evidence if you take each question as an opportunity to repeat the same thing.

Dealing with the cross-examiner

Do not be tempted to argue with the cross-examiner. You will come across as being deliberately difficult and evasive, which courts hate. It is far better to stay calm and focus on dealing with the questions put to you.

If there are any matters of particular concern to you about either the evidence you are to give or that may be put to you in cross-examination you should let me know now.

So that we can start on the preparation of your statement I would be grateful if you could contact me to arrange a mutually convenient time for us to discuss.

Yours Sincerely

If you have no recollection of something you are asked about, don't be tempted to tell the court what you assume must have happened as if you know it for a matter of fact. You should say that you do not recall the particular matter in issue but think it likely that a particular scenario would have happened and explain why you think that to be the case. Be honest or the cross-examiner will force you to admit you can't remember and you will look foolish for not having been honest in the first place.

Being asked for a yes or no answer

The most popular line of attack for a cross-examiner is the closed question. You will become familiar with the phrase "it's a yes or no answer". You probably won't agree.

The temptation when faced with an unreasonably restrictive question is to not answer it and instead to answer the question you think you should have been asked. However, this will make you appear evasive and unhelpful and will not endear you to the court. It is better to either answer yes or no, but to state that is not a complete answer and there are other things the court should know in order to be able to understand it. Then, the court will either let you expand your answer immediately or you will at least have brought your representative's attention to this issue as being one that you should be taken back to in re-examination.

Answer the question and avoid repetition

You should keep your answers to the questions that you are asked. You can undermine your credibility and the strength of your evidence if you take each question as an opportunity to repeat the same thing.

Dealing with the cross-examiner

Do not be tempted to argue with the cross-examiner. You will come across as being deliberately difficult and evasive, which courts hate. It is far better to stay calm and focus on dealing with the questions put to you.

If there are any matters of particular concern to you about either the evidence you are to give or that may be put to you in cross-examination you should let me know now.

So that we can start on the preparation of your statement I would be grateful if you could contact me to arrange a mutually convenient time for us to discuss.

Yours Sincerely

I write further to our previous correspondence.

Thank you for agreeing to give evidence in the claim being brought by { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_SURNAME_1" }. I understand that you are able to give evidence about [DETAILS OF INFORMATION OR EVENTS TO BE COVERED BY WITNESS STATEMENT].

I thought it would be useful if, at this stage, I set out the steps that will be taken to prepare your witness statement. I have also included some general advice on how to prepare to give your evidence and how to deal with cross-examination by the other side's representative.

Your witness statement

Early preparation of your statement will ensure that:

- a) Your recollection is set down on paper while matters are as fresh in your mind and before they are subject to challenge;
- b) You have a proper opportunity to think about the matters and/or events you are dealing with and your evidence is presented in a clear and logical fashion;
- c) You have the chance to thoroughly consider any documents referred to in your statement;
- d) The words used in the statement are your own, you are comfortable with what you have said, and you are not committed to say anything that you do not really mean; and
- e) We can identify any areas of difficulty or concern at an early stage so that you can be properly prepared to deal with them at the hearing.

Preparing for the hearing

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\NeilB\\OneDrive - PRACCTICE LTD\\Documents\\OspreyOfficeGateway\\footer.doc"}

Once your statement has been finalised, in preparation for giving evidence at the hearing you should practise reading your statement slowly out loud a number of times. Doing this should avoid two situations that commonly make witnesses look foolish and damage their credibility:

- a) A witness who reads out their statement in a faltering fashion suggests that the words they are reading are unfamiliar. The court may conclude that the words they are hearing are not their own; or
- b) A witness contradicts their statement when they answer a question in cross-examination.

A witness who remains calm and sticks to their evidence is difficult for even a skilled cross-examiner to undermine.

Giving evidence at the hearing

When you are called to give evidence, you will be asked to take the oath. This will involve either swearing on a holy book or, if you are not religious, affirming. Our representative will then ask you to take the court through your account of what happened. They will ask questions as required. These questions will also enable you to get comfortable with the process of answering questions before the court.

Once our representative has finished asking you questions, the other party's representative will have the opportunity to cross-examine you. Since this is the part of giving evidence that most often worries witnesses, I have set out some advice below about how to give evidence effectively when being cross-examined.

After you have been cross-examined, our representative will be permitted to ask you further questions about matters that have come up during your cross-examination.

How to give evidence effectively

This is very simple: do what the oath requires of you. Tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Dealing with possibilities

You should only tell the court things you know for a fact. The cross-examiner may ask you to speculate about whether it is possible that a particular event occurred. Contrary to what is commonly assumed, you cannot refuse to answer a question merely because it is hypothetical. The issues commonly dealt with by courts often involve the consideration of hypothetical matters.

If you are asked whether something was possible, unless you tell the court how likely you think it was they will be left guessing. Therefore, if you think that there was a slight possibility of that something happening or having happened, rather than saying that it was possible you should let the court know how likely it was. For example, you could say that it was possible but would have been very unlikely.

When you can't remember something

If you have no recollection of something you are asked about, don't be tempted to tell the court what you assume must have happened as if you know it for a matter of fact. You should say that you do not recall the particular matter in issue but think it likely that a particular scenario would have happened and explain why you think that to be the case. Be honest or the cross-examiner will force you to admit you can't remember and you will look foolish for not having been honest in the first place.

Being asked for a yes or no answer

The most popular line of attack for a cross-examiner is the closed question. You will become familiar with the phrase "it's a yes or no answer". You probably won't agree.

The temptation when faced with an unreasonably restrictive question is to not answer it and instead to answer the question you think you should have been asked. However, this will make you appear evasive and unhelpful and will not endear you to the court. It is better to either answer yes or no, but to state that is not a complete answer and there are other things the court should know in order to be able to understand it. Then, the court will either let you expand your answer immediately or you will at least have brought your representative's attention to this issue as being one that you should be taken back to in re-examination.

Answer the question and avoid repetition

You should keep your answers to the questions that you are asked. You can undermine your credibility and the strength of your evidence if you take each question as an opportunity to repeat the same thing.

Dealing with the cross-examiner

Do not be tempted to argue with the cross-examiner. You will come across as being deliberately difficult and evasive, which courts hate. It is far better to stay calm and focus on dealing with the questions put to you.

The temptation when faced with an unreasonably restrictive question is to not answer it and instead to answer the question you think you should have been asked. However, this will make you appear evasive and unhelpful and will not endear you to the court. It is better to either answer yes or no, but to state that is not a complete answer and there are other things the court should know in order to be able to understand it. Then, the court will either let you expand your answer immediately or you will at least have brought your representative's attention to this issue as being one that you should be taken back to in re-examination.

Answer the question and avoid repetition

You should keep your answers to the questions that you are asked. You can undermine your credibility and the strength of your evidence if you take each question as an opportunity to repeat the same thing.

Dealing with the cross-examiner

Do not be tempted to argue with the cross-examiner. You will come across as being deliberately difficult and evasive, which courts hate. It is far better to stay calm and focus on dealing with the questions put to you.

If there are any matters of particular concern to you about either the evidence you are to give or that may be put to you in cross-examination you should let me know now.

So that we can start on the preparation of your statement I would be grateful if you could contact me to arrange a mutually convenient time for us to discuss.

Yours Sincerely

I write further to our previous correspondence.

Thank you for agreeing to give evidence in the claim being brought by { MERGEFIELD
"LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_SURNAME_1" }. I understand that you are able to give evidence about [DETAILS OF INFORMATION OR EVENTS TO BE COVERED BY WITNESS STATEMENT].

I thought it would be useful if, at this stage, I set out the steps that will be taken to prepare your witness statement. I have also included some general advice on how to prepare to give your evidence and how to deal with cross-examination by the other side's representative.

Your witness statement

Early preparation of your statement will ensure that:

- a) Your recollection is set down on paper while matters are as fresh in your mind and before they are subject to challenge;
- b) You have a proper opportunity to think about the matters and/or events you are dealing with and your evidence is presented in a clear and logical fashion;
- c) You have the chance to thoroughly consider any documents referred to in your statement;
- d) The words used in the statement are your own, you are comfortable with what you have said, and you are not committed to say anything that you do not really mean; and
- e) We can identify any areas of difficulty or concern at an early stage so that you can be properly prepared to deal with them at the hearing.

Preparing for the hearing

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\NeilB\\OneDrive - PRACCTICE
LTD\\Documents\\OspreyOfficeGateway\\footer.doc"}

Once your statement has been finalised, in preparation for giving evidence at the hearing you should practise reading your statement slowly out loud a number of times. Doing this should avoid two situations that commonly make witnesses look foolish and damage their credibility:

- a) A witness who reads out their statement in a faltering fashion suggests that the words they are reading are unfamiliar. The court may conclude that the words they are hearing are not their own; or
- b) A witness contradicts their statement when they answer a question in cross-examination.

A witness who remains calm and sticks to their evidence is difficult for even a skilled cross-examiner to undermine.

Giving evidence at the hearing

When you are called to give evidence, you will be asked to take the oath. This will involve either swearing on a holy book or, if you are not religious, affirming. Our representative will then ask you to take the court through your account of what happened. They will ask questions as required. These questions will also enable you to get comfortable with the process of answering questions before the court.

Once our representative has finished asking you questions, the other party's representative will have the opportunity to cross-examine you. Since this is the part of giving evidence that most often worries witnesses, I have set out some advice below about how to give evidence effectively when being cross-examined.

After you have been cross-examined, our representative will be permitted to ask you further questions about matters that have come up during your cross-examination.

How to give evidence effectively

This is very simple: do what the oath requires of you. Tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Dealing with possibilities

You should only tell the court things you know for a fact. The cross-examiner may ask you to speculate about whether it is possible that a particular event occurred. Contrary to what is commonly assumed, you cannot refuse to answer a question merely because it is hypothetical. The issues commonly dealt with by courts often involve the consideration of hypothetical matters.

If you are asked whether something was possible, unless you tell the court how likely you think it was they will be left guessing. Therefore, if you think that there was a slight possibility of that something happening or having happened, rather than saying that it was possible you should let the court know how likely it was. For example, you could say that it was possible but would have been very unlikely.

When you can't remember something

If you have no recollection of something you are asked about, don't be tempted to tell the court what you assume must have happened as if you know it for a matter of fact. You should say that you do not recall the particular matter in issue but think it likely that a particular scenario would have happened and explain why you think that to be the case. Be honest or the cross-examiner will force you to admit you can't remember and you will look foolish for not having been honest in the first place.

Being asked for a yes or no answer

The most popular line of attack for a cross-examiner is the closed question. You will become familiar with the phrase "it's a yes or no answer". You probably won't agree.

The temptation when faced with an unreasonably restrictive question is to not answer it and instead to answer the question you think you should have been asked. However, this will make you appear evasive and unhelpful and will not endear you to the court. It is better to either answer yes or no, but to state that is not a complete answer and there are other things the court should know in order to be able to understand it. Then, the court will either let you expand your answer immediately or you will at least have brought your representative's attention to this issue as being one that you should be taken back to in re-examination.

Answer the question and avoid repetition

You should keep your answers to the questions that you are asked. You can undermine your credibility and the strength of your evidence if you take each question as an opportunity to repeat the same thing.

Dealing with the cross-examiner

Do not be tempted to argue with the cross-examiner. You will come across as being deliberately difficult and evasive, which courts hate. It is far better to stay calm and focus on dealing with the questions put to you.

If there are any matters of particular concern to you about either the evidence you are to give or that may be put to you in cross-examination you should let me know now.

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER DESCRIPTION }

Please find enclosed draft Part 36 Offer for your approval.

In this letter I will explain in more detail how a Part 36 offer works, and the potential advantages and disadvantages of making one in your case.

A Part 36 offer is a special kind of settlement offer governed by Part 36 of the Civil Procedure Rules 1998.

Part 36 of the Civil Procedure Rules 1998 is a complex and detailed area of law. This letter does not attempt to explain every possible use of such an offer but instead summarises how it operates in most ordinary scenarios. It will also propose options for the progression of your case.

I wish to point out the following:

Next steps

I hope this letter comprehensively details the position with Part 36 offers. Once you have had an opportunity to consider the proposed offer of settlement, please contact me to discuss so that I may draft the relevant letter to the defendant.

Yours sincerely

You should note the date by which this questionnaire must be returned and the name of the court it should be returned to since this may be different from the court where the proceedings were issued.

If you have settled this claim (or if you settle it on a future date) and do not need to have it heard or tried, you must let the court know immediately.

A Settlement/Mediation

Under the Civil Procedure Rules parties should make every effort to settle their case. At this stage you should still think about whether you and the other party(ies) can settle your dispute without going to a hearing.

You may seek to settle the claim either by direct discussion or negotiation with the other party or by mediation. If settlement is reached parties may enter into a binding agreement which can be enforced if the terms of the agreement were to be breached.

Mediation is a way of resolving disputes without a court hearing, where the parties are assisted in resolving their dispute with the help of an impartial mediator. If the claim is settled at this stage the parties can avoid further court fees, costs and time involved in preparing and attending a hearing.

You may use any mediation provider. However, HMCTS provide a free confidential Small Claims Mediation Service which is available to parties in most small claims cases which are for less than £10,000.

Mediation is usually carried out by telephone in one hour time limited appointments convenient to the parties and is quicker than waiting for a court hearing before a judge. There is no obligation to use the Small Claims Mediation Service nor are you required to settle if you do. If you are unable to reach agreement with the other party at mediation, the claim will proceed to a small claims hearing before a judge.

You can get more information about mediation from www.gov.uk

If all parties agree, this case will be referred to the Small Claims Mediation Service. In any event the court may order the service to contact you to explore mediation.

Track

The small claims track – generally for lower value and less complex claims with a value under £10,000. You can get more information by reading leaflet EX306 'The small claims track in civil courts'. You can get this leaflet online from hmctsformfinder.justice.gov.uk

Location

If your claim is a designated money claim the case will usually be transferred to the claimants preferred court or the defendants home court as appropriate. However, there is no guarantee of transfer to this court. For further information see CPR Parts 3, 12, 13, 14 and 26.

Expert evidence

The court must grant you permission to use an expert witness. Your notice of allocation will tell you if permission has been granted. Please note the upper limit for experts' fees that can be recovered is £750. You can get more information by reading leaflet EX306 'The small claims track in civil courts'. You can get this leaflet online from hmctsformfinder.justice.gov.uk

Witnesses

Witnesses may be asked to give evidence by either party. The court needs to have notice that you intend to call a witness. Witness expenses for travel accommodation and loss of earning should be met by the party requesting their attendance. You can get more information by reading EX342 'Coming to a court hearing'. You can get this leaflet online from hmctsformfinder.justice.gov.uk

Hearing

Dates to avoid: You should enter those dates where you, your expert or an essential witness will not be able to attend court because of a holiday or other commitments.

Interpreters: In some circumstances the court will arrange for, and meet the cost of an interpreter. If you require an interpreter, you should contact the court immediately. Further details visit our website www.justice.gov.uk under 'guidance'.

A Settlement

Under the Civil Procedure Rules parties should make every effort to settle their case before the hearing. This could be by discussion or negotiation (such as a roundtable meeting or settlement conference) or by a more formal process such as mediation. The court will want to know what steps have been taken. Settling the case early can save costs, including court hearing fees.

To find out which protocol is relevant to your claim see: www.justice.gov.uk/guidance/courts-and-tribunals/courts/procedure-rules/civil/menus/protocol.htm

D1. Applications

It is important for the court to know if you have already made any applications in the claim (or are about to issue one), what they are for and when they will be heard. The outcome of the applications may affect the case management directions the court gives.

If you have indicated in the proposed directions a track attached which would not be the normal track for the claim, please give brief reasons below for your choice.

{ FORMTEXT }

The basic guide by which claims are normally allocated to a track is the amount in dispute, although other factors such as the complexity of the case will also be considered. Leaflet EX305 – The Fast Track and the Multi-track, explains this in greater detail.

D3. Disclosure of electronic documents (multi-track cases only)

If you are proposing that the claim be allocated to the multi-track:

1. Have you reached agreement, either using the Electronic Documents
 } Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No { FORMCHECKBOX }

Questionnaire in Practice Direction 31B or otherwise, about the scope and extent of disclosure of electronic documents on each side?

2. If No, is such agreement likely? { FORMCHECKBOX }
 } Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No { FORMCHECKBOX }

3. If there is no agreement and no agreement is likely, what are the issues about disclosure of electronic documents which the court needs to address, and should they be dealt with at the Case Management Conference or at a separate hearing?

{ FORMTEXT }

D4. Disclosure of non-electronic documents (all cases)

What directions are proposed for disclosure?

{ FORMTEXT }

For all multi-track cases, except personal injury.

Have you filed and served a disclosure report (Form N263) { FORMCHECKBOX }

} Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No
 (see Civil Procedure Rules Part 31).

Have you agreed a proposal in relation to disclosure that meets the { FORMCHECKBOX }

} Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No
 overriding objective?

If Yes, please ensure this is contained within the proposed directions attached and specify the draft order number.

{ FORMTEXT }

E Experts

Do you wish to use expert evidence at the trial or final hearing? { FORMCHECKBOX }
 Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No

Have you already copied any experts' report(s) to the other party(ies)? { FORMCHECKBOX }

None yet obtained

Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No

Do you consider the case suitable for a single joint expert in any field? { FORMCHECKBOX }

Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No

There is no presumption that expert evidence is necessary, or that each party will be entitled to their own expert(s). Therefore, the court requires a short explanation of your proposals with regard to expert evidence.

Notes

Please list any single joint experts you propose to use and any other experts you wish to rely on. Identify single joint experts with the initials 'SJ' after their name(s). Please provide justification of your proposal and an estimate of costs.

IMPORTANT NOTES:

1. This form may be used to settle the whole or part of, or any issue that arises in, a claim, counterclaim, other additional claim, appeal or cross-appeal. It may also be used to settle detailed costs assessment proceedings.
2. When used to make a Part 36 offer in respect of an appeal, an appellant seeking to settle their appeal should make a claimant's offer while a respondent should make a defendant's offer. [See rule 36.4.]
3. When used to make a Part 36 offer in respect of a counterclaim or other additional claim or a cross-appeal in certain appeal proceedings:
 - the party bringing the counterclaim, additional claim or cross-appeal can make (a) a claimant's offer on such counterclaim, additional claim or cross-appeal; or (b) a defendant's offer on the claim or appeal; and
 - the party bringing the original claim or appeal can make (a) a claimant's offer on such claim or appeal; or (b) a defendant's offer on the counterclaim or cross-appeal.

In any case the offeror should make plain whether the offer takes into account any adverse claim. For example, when making an offer on a claim, state whether it takes into account the counterclaim. Equally when making an offer on a counterclaim, state whether it takes into account the claim. [See rules 36.2(3), 20.2 & 20.3 in respect of counterclaims and other additional claims. See rules 36.2(3) and 36.4 in respect of cross-appeals.]
4. When this form is used to make a Part 36 offer in detailed costs assessment proceedings, the receiving party in the assessment should make a claimant's offer while the paying party should make a defendant's offer. [See rule 47.20.]
5. In summary, Part 36 provides that:
 - A party making a defendant's offer is offering something to settle their opponent's claim, counterclaim, additional claim, appeal, cross-appeal or costs assessment proceedings and to accept a liability to pay costs.
 - A party making a claimant's offer is offering to accept something to settle their own claim, counterclaim, additional claim, appeal, cross-appeal or costs assessment proceedings on terms that their opponent pays their costs.
6. Part 6 of the Civil Procedure Rules makes detailed provision for the service of court documents.

NOTICE OF ACCEPTANCE

NOTES:

1. This form is suitable for the simple acceptance of the offer.
2. Where an offer relates only to part of the proceedings and the offeree wishes to abandon the balance of the claim then this should be made clear when accepting the offer. [See rule 36.13(2).]

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER_MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

Further to the above, I have enclosed with this letter some information about my firm. This also sets out how we would investigate such a claim and the tests involved in the law for establishing whether or not there has been negligence.

From the brief discussion that we had, I do believe that you are justified in making enquiries to see whether or not there has been substandard treatment (liability) and to establish how { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } suffered as a result of that substandard treatment (causation). This is not to say that I am saying that you have a claim which will be successful, but on the information you have provided to me to date, I consider the treatment { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } received warrants further investigation.

In order to investigate the claim I may need to obtain copies of all medical records, including G.P. records. I may also need to obtain independent expert opinion to look at the problems that { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } has encountered as a result of any potential negligence. I may need to obtain further medical evidence to investigate the harm or damage that { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } has suffered.{ IF { MERGEFIELD FW_CN_CLI_INFO_FW_CN_NHS_COMP } = "No" "

I understand that you have not yet pursued the complaints procedure following the care you have been provided. Following the complaints procedure may provide you with some answers and will also assist if you are to proceed further with a potential claim. For more details abouts the NHS complaints procedure please visit { HYPERLINK "https://www.nhs.uk/using-the-nhs/about-the-nhs/how-to-complain-to-the-nhs/" }.

Everyone who provides an NHS service in England must have their own complaints procedure. You can often find information in waiting rooms, at reception, on the service provider's website, or by asking a member of staff. Any complaint will need to set out a chronology of events, your reasons for the complaint and any questions you have. Try to keep any questions concise so that any response does not skirt around the main issues. Please ensure you keep a copy of any correspondence sent and received. Whilst a complaint can run alongside a legal claim, I would not recommend stating in the letter that you are considering legal advice, as my experience is that the letter of complaint will not be dealt with if you advise them of this. You should expect an acknowledgement and the offer of a discussion about the handling of your complaint within 3 working days of your complaint being received.

Unfortunately we cannot assist with the complaints process, but there is an organisation known as NHS Complaints Advocacy Service, an independent service, who should be able to help you to write a letter of complaint if you need assistance in doing so and they can provide you with free confidential help. For more information on this service visit { HYPERLINK "https://www.voiceability.org/about-advocacy/types-of-advocacy/nhs-complaints-advocacy" }. " " }

We did briefly discuss the various funding options available when bringing a legal claim. To discuss the case, there has been no charge to you. Please check whether you have any household, car, credit/debit card insurances that may have a legal protection attached to them (often referred to as Legal Expense Cover or BTE - Before the Event insurance). The policy ought to have been in place at the time of the alleged negligence. I therefore suggest that the starting point is for you to check through any insurance policies that you have to see whether or not you have any legal expense cover. Often they can exclude clinical negligence matters but I do feel it is worth checking this area. If you would like to discuss this further, I would be more than happy to do so.

The other option is that you might be eligible for Legal Aid. We talked briefly about this and if you do not have any Before the Event funding and if certain criteria apply, we may be able to secure Legal Aid funding.

Legal Aid is a twofold test, 1) on merits and 2) on your finances. Because of your finances, you should financially qualify. On the merits, I will need to prepare a statement to Legal Aid saying why I believe you should be granted Legal Aid to investigate { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 }'s case.

If you are granted legal aid, then it is likely that a certificate will be awarded, which will enable me to take various steps, namely obtain { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 }'s records, independent medical expert opinion and a Barrister's Advice thereafter. If we cannot prove that there has been negligence at that stage, Legal Aid will pay me, the Barrister and the experts involved. There is no charge to you. Likewise, if we could say that at the first stage it is likely that we could show there is negligence, we would proceed to the next stage and your legal aid would be limited further. The financial limit, which initially would be approximately £7500 - 10000 would probably be increased. If we get to the next stage, and again we cannot prove negligence or we cannot succeed against the other parties, if we become involved in Court proceedings, again Legal Aid will pay me the Barrister, the experts involved.

If { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } has the benefit of legal aid, the other side cannot ask that you pay their costs. This continues until the conclusion of the case. If you lose your case, then you are protected by Legal Aid. If you win, then you are granted an award of damages and this time, rather than Legal Aid paying me, the other side have to pay the costs. Providing all of the costs are paid, then you will be paid all of your damages. There is a legal aid 'statutory charge' and this is when there could be a shortfall in the amount of costs that are paid by the other side, for example, we had had a negative report, which was never disclosed to the other side. It rarely happens but it is there and I will advise you as the case progresses as to whether or not I think it is likely that the statutory charge will have to be used.

If { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } is legally aided I will write to you on a six monthly basis to tell you how much public money has been spent on the case. This is not a request for payment but is to tell you how much public money has been spent. It is a reminder to you that Legal Aid views the granting of the certificate to you as a very serious matter and that public money should not be wasted in any way.

I remind you of your duty to let legal aid know immediately if you obtain some capital and/or your work and your finances change. They can then reassess your eligibility and you may still qualify or you may qualify but have to pay a legal aid contribution.

I did discuss that Legal Aid may assess that you can pay a contribution towards the cost of your case. This is payable for the life of the case. If we cannot proceed or lose, you will lose the amount of money that you have paid to legal aid up until that point. In some very rare cases if you lost a court case, the defendants could ask that you pay to them the same amount that you have paid in legal aid contributions at that time. We are not obliged to tell the other side that you are paying contributions but if they ask, we have to tell them. If you win Legal aid will return the contributions to you, subject to any 'statutory charge'.

In some cases and scenarios, Legal Aid could be discharged, in which case Legal Aid would pay all of the costs but if they felt that you had been unreasonable or failed to disclose information to them within a reasonable period of time, they could revoke the certificate, which means that whilst they would still pay me, they may then seek recovery of whatever monies they pay out to us, from you. Again, this very, very rarely happens. If you win the case, then you would receive full reimbursement of the legal aid contributions, subject to any statutory charge.

I enclose the MEANS1 form for you to complete. This is the form which asks about your household finances. I also enclose two form L17's one for yourself and one for your partner to complete. These need to be passed to your employers as they need to give the information about your finances. Please return them to me in the stamped addressed envelope provided as soon as possible. I will also send you another Legal Aid form for signature shortly. This will be the form that sets out who the parties are and has a brief summary of what the case is about.

If the funding options discussed above are not available, we would need to consider if the matter is suitable for a 'No Win, No Fee' agreement (Conditional Fee Agreement or CFA). This will mean that if we are not successful in your claim, we would waive our fees. Before proceeding with such an agreement, we must firstly ensure you do not have any Before the Event insurance and consider whether the case would be suitable for a 'no, win, no fee' agreement based on our assessment of the strengths of your case.

If the matter did go on to be funded by way of a 'no win, no fee' agreement, I can advise that if you were successful with a claim of this nature, you would be liable to pay for the following:

- Our base costs calculated by how much time we spend working on your matter based on our hourly rate as set out in the CFA. As a general rule you can expect to recover a portion of this from the defendant. There are factors that can affect the amount of base costs recoverable from the defendant, which we will advise you upon when such factors arise.
- A success fee would be payable from any damages that you receive. Again, this will be set out in the CFA. This is the fee to account for our risk of not being paid our base cost in the event you are not successful in your claim. You are liable for the success fee in full and cannot be recovered from the defendant.

- Any disbursements we pay out on your behalf such as court fees or medial expert fees. As a general rule you can expect to recover a portion of this from the defendant and you would be required to pay any shortfall in the amounts payable. There are again factors that can affect the value of disbursements recoverable from the defendant, which we will advise you upon when such factors arise.
- Any fee for a barrister instructed in your behalf. A barrister would normally also be instructed on a no win no fee basis and details of any such agreement would ne advised at the time. If a no win no fee arrangement cannot be agreed with a barrister, the fees would be treated the same as any other disbursement as detailed above.

If you were not successful with your claim, you would not be liable to pay our base costs or the success fee but you would be required to pay any disbursements, barrister costs and the defendants costs.

If the matter were to proceed via a CFA, we would also need to consider obtaining what is known as 'after the event' insurance (ATE) to provide you with further protection. This will cover the legal costs payable to the defendant in the event that the claimant's claim is unsuccessful. I will write to you separately regarding this if required.

I look forward to hearing from you further. Please ensure in the meantime that you keep safe any evidence- such as prescription, letter of complaint/response, medicine boxes etc. if you need to contact me please do not hesitate to do so.

Finally, I must remind you of the time limits applicable to claims for clinical negligence. The law requires all individuals who have sustained personal injuries as a result of another's acts/omissions to bring a claim (that is to issue Court proceedings) within three years of the date of the alleged negligence or three years from the date upon which they suspected/believed or ought reasonably have suspected/believed that they may have suffered as a result of another's acts/omissions. A failure to do so may result in them being prevented from bringing a claim about the matter in the future.

I look forward to hearing from you as to whether you do have 'Before the Event' insurance or whether you wish for us to consider matters under a CFA as above.{ IF { MERGEFIELD FW_CN_CLI_INFO_FW_CN_NHS_COMP } = "No" "Please can you also let me know whether you will be pursuing the NHS complaints procedure as discussed." Of course, should you have any difficulties or queries upon receipt of this letter, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely

I refer to previous correspondence and e-mails in this potential claim.

charging rates and confirm that these are acceptable.

potential clinical negligence claim arising out of the circumstances of { IF { MERGEFIELD

To assist you in your report, we enclose copies of the following:

1. Client's statement re the circumstances giving rise to the allegations of negligence
2. We refer you to the statement and our original letter of approach by way of background information.

Our client's allegation is that

Review Clinical Records

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\NeilB\\OneDrive - PRACCTICE
LTD\\Documents\\OspreyOfficeGateway\\footer.doc"}

Please review the records to determine whether our client can demonstrate on the balance of probabilities that the treatment afforded to { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "him" "her" } fell below the standard of care { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "he" "she" } was entitled to expect. The relevant standard of care is whether the medical staff's conduct fell below the standard that could have been expected from a responsible body of competent health professionals in the same fields who were skilled in their art at that time. It is the relevant standard of medical care prevailing rather than that which prevails now.

Please confirm that all of the relevant clinical notes have been disclosed to your satisfaction.

Law

Questions

We should be grateful if you would consider the following questions in your report. However, we value your views generally, and we ask that you do not restrict your report to dealing with these points only:

1.

Standard of Proof

It is for our client to prove each element of the claim, on the balance of probabilities, that is, more likely than not. It is not necessary for our client to prove matters beyond reasonable doubt, as in criminal matters.

[Factual Disputes]

It is for the court and not the experts, to resolve factual disputes. Where a factual matter is pertinent to a conclusion, the conclusion should be provided in the alternative.

Liability

It is also for our client to prove that the hospital staff failed to reach the appropriate standard of care. Consequently, it will be necessary to show that the hospital staff failed to take such action as a reasonably competent health professional in the same fields would have done. If a substantial body of reasonably competent health professional in the same fields would, on the balance of probabilities, have taken the course of action that the healthcare professionals did in this case, then our client cannot say that they have been negligent.

If the body of health professionals referred to above, would have taken the same approach as the health professional in this case, they should be able to demonstrate a logical basis for this decision. If you are aware of any argument that the defendant may put forward in respect of this case, we would welcome your view as to whether any such argument has a sound medical basis. If you are aware of any counter arguments which may be put forward, we also look forward to hearing those.

Causation

If and when we have successfully established fault on the part of the health professional it will then be necessary to show that the fault did, on the balance of probabilities, directly cause or materially contribute to the damage/loss of which our client complains (again on the balance of probabilities. If our client would have suffered [] in any event, regardless of the negligent acts which may be identified, then it will not be possible for our client to receive compensation.

A material contribution does not have to be a substantial contribution, and causation may be established if the contribution was more than negligible/de minimis to the Claimant's injury.

Again, if you are aware of any arguments which the defendant may put forward on causation, together with any counter arguments, we look forward to considering these.

Please consider the liability of the hospital staff by reference to contemporary medical literature.

Structure of Report

Please produce your report in the normal A4 style and please ensure that your report is identified by number or purpose (e.g. preliminary) so that easy reference can be made in the future. Please also identify the clinical notes referred to in your report precisely and use the page numbers referred to in the enclosed A4 file of notes. It would also be of assistance if you would explain any complicated terminology and use diagrams where appropriate.

Please also provide an appendix to your report giving details of your qualifications and experience and also providing copies of any literature upon which you have relied.

Please also ensure that in order to comply with the Court rules you should insert above your signature, a statement that the contents of your report are true to the best of your knowledge and belief.

Meeting with Client

If it is necessary for our client to attend upon you, please let us know so that we can make suitable arrangements.

Further Evidence

Conference with Counsel

There is a possibility that upon receipt of your report, we will wish to hold a conference with Counsel at which we would appreciate your attendance. Please let us have details of any dates that you know you will not be able to attend in the twelve weeks after you send your report to us.

You may or may not be aware that the Part 35 CPR Rules have changed in respect of the statement of truth that is now required in an expert's report. The new declaration should be worded as follows: 'I confirm that I have made clear which facts and matters in this report are within my own knowledge and which are not. Those that are within my own knowledge I confirm to be true. The opinions that I have expressed represent my true and complete professional opinions on the matters to which they refer'.

Should you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact us. Once again we thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Yours Sincerely

To assist you in your report, we enclose copies of the following:

1. Client's statement re the circumstances giving rise to the allegations of negligence
2. We refer you to the statement and our original letter of approach by way of background information.

Our client's allegation is that

Review Clinical Records

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\NeilB\\OneDrive - PRACCTICE LTD\\Documents\\OspreyOfficeGateway\\footer.doc"}

Please review the records to determine whether our client can demonstrate on the balance of probabilities that the treatment afforded to { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "him" "her" } fell below the standard of care { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "he" "she" } was entitled to expect. The relevant standard of care is whether the medical staff's conduct fell below the standard that could have been expected from a responsible body of competent health professionals in the same fields who were skilled in their art at that time. It is the relevant standard of medical care prevailing rather than that which prevails now.

Please confirm that all of the relevant clinical notes have been disclosed to your satisfaction.

Questions

We should be grateful if you would consider the following questions in your report. However, we value your views generally, and we ask that you do not restrict your report to dealing with these points only:

1.

Standard of Proof

It is for our client to prove each element of the claim, on the balance of probabilities, that is, more likely than not. It is not necessary for our client to prove matters beyond reasonable doubt, as in criminal matters.

[Factual Disputes]

It is for the court and not the experts, to resolve factual disputes. Where a factual matter is pertinent to a conclusion, the conclusion should be provided in the alternative.

Liability

It is also for our client to prove that the hospital staff failed to reach the appropriate standard of care. Consequently, it will be necessary to show that the hospital staff failed to take such action as a reasonably competent health professional in the same fields would have done. If a substantial body of reasonably competent health professional in the same fields would, on the balance of probabilities, have taken the course of action that the healthcare professionals did in this case, then our client cannot say that they have been negligent.

If the body of health professionals referred to above, would have taken the same approach as the health professional in this case, they should be able to demonstrate a logical basis for this decision. If you are aware of any argument that the defendant may put forward in respect of this case, we would welcome your view as to whether any such argument has a sound medical basis. If you are aware of any counter arguments which may be put forward, we also look forward to hearing those.

Causation

If and when we have successfully established fault on the part of the health professional it will then be necessary to show that the fault did, on the balance of probabilities, directly cause or materially contribute to the damage/loss of which our client complains (again on the balance of probabilities. If our client would have suffered [] in any event, regardless of the negligent acts which may be identified, then it will not be possible for our client to receive compensation.

A material contribution does not have to be a substantial contribution, and causation may be established if the contribution was more than negligible/de minimis to the Claimant's injury.

Again, if you are aware of any arguments which the defendant may put forward on causation, together with any counter arguments, we look forward to considering these.

Please consider the liability of the hospital staff by reference to contemporary medical literature.

Structure of Report

Please produce your report in the normal A4 style and please ensure that your report is identified by number or purpose (e.g. preliminary) so that easy reference can be made in the future. Please also identify the clinical notes referred to in your report precisely and use the page numbers referred to in the enclosed A4 file of notes. It would also be of assistance if you would explain any complicated terminology and use diagrams where appropriate.

Please also provide an appendix to your report giving details of your qualifications and experience and also providing copies of any literature upon which you have relied.

Please also ensure that in order to comply with the Court rules you should insert above your signature, a statement that the contents of your report are true to the best of your knowledge and belief.

Meeting with Client

If it is necessary for our client to attend upon you, please let us know so that we can make suitable arrangements.

Conference with Counsel

There is a possibility that upon receipt of your report, we will wish to hold a conference with Counsel at which we would appreciate your attendance. Please let us have details of any dates that you know you will not be able to attend in the twelve weeks after you send your report to us.

You may or may not be aware that the Part 35 CPR Rules have changed in respect of the statement of truth that is now required in an expert's report. The new declaration should be worded as follows: 'I confirm that I have made clear which facts and matters in this report are within my own knowledge and which are not. Those that are within my own knowledge I confirm to be true. The opinions that I have expressed represent my true and complete professional opinions on the matters to which they refer'.

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER_MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

Thank you for your instructions to act for you in respect of { MERGEFIELD
"LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_SURNAME_1" }'s medical negligence claim.

This letter explains the basis on which we will carry out all the work in relation to { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s case. As the parent/guardian of { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_SURNAME_1" }, { IF { MERGEFIELD FW_CN_CLI_INFO_FW_CN_CLI_LIT } = "Yes" "a minor " "" } unless we hear from you to the contrary, we assume that you will be { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } nominated 'litigation friend' and will be responsible for providing instructions in relation to { MERGEFIELD
"LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s case.

A litigation friend is also responsible for any costs which may be payable by a minor or patient should a cost order be awarded against the minor/patient. However, a minor/patient is usually entitled to public funding, and under the relevant statutes, if a court is considering whether or not to make a cost order against a legally aided party, (s)he must look at the legally aided party's financial circumstances. As public funding is granted to those without their own financial resources, it is most unlikely that a court will require the legally aided party to pay costs.

Legal Help

In light of the information you have provided, we assessed { MERGEFIELD
"LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s eligibility for Legal Help. { IF { MERGEFIELD
FW_CN_CLI_INFO_FW_CN_CLI_LIT } = "Yes" "As a minor" "" }, { MERGEFIELD
"LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } qualifies for this preliminary form of funding. As { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } qualifies we will be able to do work up to the value of £249 plus VAT on { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s behalf.

These figures allow us to meet with you and others, travel when necessary, consider, prepare and work on papers, enter into and consider incoming correspondence, make and receive telephone calls on your behalf, consider any issues which arise and keep you informed of matter. However, it is not possible for us to attend Court on your behalf.

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\NeilB\\OneDrive - PRACCTICE

In extenuating circumstances, if further work is required, we may be able to apply for an extension of this financial limit to a maximum of £500.00 plus VAT, but if it is refused, it will be your responsibility to cover the cost of the additional work requested by you which exceeds the existing limit. If we do not recover costs from your opponent but { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } recovers compensation or property, these costs may be repayable to the Legal Aid Agency by { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } from damages received.

The Legal Aid Agency which provides Legal Help funding will pay your legal costs as follows:

- £47.80 per hour for attendance upon individuals and documentation and preparation;
- £37.50 per hour for telephone calls and letters.
- £26.80 for travelling and waiting.

Our charges are calculated mainly by reference to the amount of time that we spend on a matter.

Routine letters that we write and routine telephone calls that we make and receive will be charged as units of 1/10th of an hour. Other letters and calls will be charged on a time basis.

We will add VAT to our charges at the rate that applies when the work is done. VAT is 20% at present.

Please note that unnecessary telephone calls received or made at your request have the potential to eat into the funding before initial investigations/work has been finalized.

CLS Funding certificates for Legal Representation

If you apply for a Funding certificate on behalf of { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }, your application forms will be submitted to the Legal Aid Agency but it may take them 3-4 weeks to deal with your application. If they calculate that { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } is financially eligible for a Funding certificate they will then look at the chances of { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s case succeeding and the likelihood of the opponent being able to pay { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } legal costs. The Legal Aid Agency will notify you of their decision and can issue a Funding Certificate, an Offer of Funding or refuse { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s application. In the latter case you can appeal against their decision, if appropriate

Financial Changes and Discharge of Funding Certificates

If and when { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } is granted a Funding certificate you have a duty to disclose any changes in { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 }'s circumstances, including a change of address or financial circumstances. If there is any increase in { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s finances during the time { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } is in receipt of Funding, this may affect the amount of any contribution that has to be paid towards the costs of { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s case. As soon as there is any change in { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s circumstances you should inform us and notify the Legal Aid Agency. If { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } becomes financially ineligible for Funding { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } certificate will be discharged. { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } may be asked to make a contribution towards the costs incurred by the Legal Aid Agency up to the date of discharge of your certificate. However, as a minor, this is most unlikely unless { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "he" "she" } has, for example, money settled in a trust. The Legal Aid Agency can also discharge { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s Funding Certificate if our investigations show that it is unlikely that { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } claim for compensation will be successful. The Legal Aid Agency will pay the costs incurred by us, { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s experts and Counsel until the date the certificate is discharged but you will be responsible for paying for any additional work after that date.

Funding Contributions and Revocation of Funding Certificates

You may be required to pay a monthly contribution towards the costs of the case in which case the Legal Aid Agency will send you an Offer of Funding setting out the amount you have to pay. We cannot start work on { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s case, under the terms of the Certificate, until you accept the offer and start to make payments in accordance with that offer. The Legal Aid Agency will then issue a Funding Certificate. Again, it is highly unlikely that a contribution will be payable on { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s certificate. If { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s income or capital position changes you should inform us and notify the Legal Aid Agency who will re-assess your contribution. Failure to keep up to date with payment of contributions may result in { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s Funding Certificate being revoked or cancelled and you may have to pay all or some of the costs incurred by us, your experts and Counsel up to the date your certificate was cancelled. You would lose all contributions paid to the Legal Aid Agency. Funding contributions are payable throughout the entirety of your case and have to be paid even after the work we do on your behalf has been completed. If you cannot afford the contributions you should notify the Legal Aid Agency immediately. The Legal Aid Agency can also revoke or cancel your Funding Certificate if you provide them with false information about your financial resources or you do not co-operate with them or us by providing requested information. As you may be asked to repay { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s costs in full it is important that you keep in touch with us and do not abandon your case without discussing the implications with us.

If { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } is successful and recovers compensation and legal commission will repay to { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } some or all of the contributions which have been paid on { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } behalf. As noted above, it is extremely unlikely that { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } will be required to pay a contribution.

The Statutory Charge

The Legal Aid Agency has a charge over any money or property that is recovered or preserved as a result of a case for which { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } has a Funding Certificate, whether by settlement or court order.

This means that we cannot release { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s compensation immediately and the compensation will be put on deposit pending payment of { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s legal costs. If the opponent pays { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s costs in full, the compensation, plus interest, will be released. If { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s costs are not paid in full by { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } opponent, the Legal Aid Agency may ask for re-payment of some or all of { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s legal costs from the compensation.

If { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } wins { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } case the opponent may not be ordered to pay the full amount of { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s costs because, for example:

A medical report was obtained, because it was not favorable to { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }, it was not disclosed to the opponent;

The court considers that too much time was spent on { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s file because we were required to attend upon you too often for too long;

There was more than one opponent involved in the case but only one of them is ordered to pay { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } compensation and costs, and { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s compensation may be used to pay the costs of the additional opponents against whom you were unsuccessful. In some cases your opponent may not be capable of paying the costs they have been ordered to pay to you.

The court will decide whether or not these costs should be paid by the opponent and if not, whether they can be deducted from { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s compensation. This procedure is called detailed assessment and may take 6 months.

Losing your case

If { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } loses { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } case, the court may order payment of the opponent's costs, even though all or some of { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s costs will be paid by the Legal Aid Agency. The amount to be paid towards the opponent's costs will depend upon whether or not { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } has had to pay a contribution towards { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } own costs. Usually { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } will only be ordered to pay an amount equal to the contribution { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } has made towards { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } own legal costs. Costs in excess of this will only be payable if { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s opponent returns to court and shows that { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "his" "her" } financial position has altered and { IF { MERGEFIELD CLI1_ADD_INFO_FW_CLI1_GENDER } = "Male" "he" "she" } can now afford to pay all their costs.

In these circumstances { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s costs will be paid by the Legal Aid Agency. Because of the Statutory Charge we shall try to keep the costs to a minimum. Whilst it is difficult to give a precise figure for the likely cost of pursuing an action such at this stage, we would estimate that they should be in the region of £{ MERGEFIELD FW_CN_COSTS_FW_CN_COST_EST }. Costs vary depending upon the amount of work we have to carry out in each case but are likely to be a lower figure if the case is settled quickly without a court hearing involving experts and Counsel.

We will update our estimate of costs every 6 months and at the same time give you an indication of the costs already incurred.

We should point out to you that although we have a duty to act in { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s best interests, we also have a duty to the Legal Aid Agency to ensure that public money is not wasted. We must inform them if { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" }'s case is weak or if you unreasonably refuse offers of settlement.

Yours sincerely
