C1 - Application for an Order

Application for an order

Form C1

Children Act 1989 except care and supervision orders, Section 8 orders and orders related to enforcement of a contact order.

If you are applying for a section 8 order or an order related to enforcement of a contact order you will need to use a different application form (Form C100 for Section 8 orders and Form C79 for enforcement). Booklet 'CB1 - Making an application - children and the family courts' gives more information. These leaflets are available from your local court or online at hmctsformfinder.justice.gov.uk.

If you are applying for one of the following private law Children Act 1989 orders you must file a separate completed FM1 form with this application:

- A parental responsibility order (sections 4(1)(c), 4ZA(1)(c) or 4A(1)(b) of the Children Act 1989) or an order terminating parental responsibility (sections 4(2A), 4ZA(5) or 4A(3) of that Act).
- An order appointing a child's guardian (section 5(1) of the Children Act 1989) or an order terminating the appointment (section 6(7) of that Act).
- An order giving permission to change a child's surname or remove a child from the United Kingdom (sections 13(1) or 14C of the Children Act 1989).
- A special guardianship order or an order varying or discharging such an order (section 14D of the Children Act 1989).

If you are applying for a care or supervision order, you will need to use Form C110A, which is available online at hmctsformfinder.justice.gov.uk.

Cafcass/CAFCASS CYMRU will carry out checks as it considers necessary.

Cafcass - Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service (in England); CAFCASS CYMRU - Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service Wales.

C100 - Application for a CAO

IMPORTANT information about your case

Please read before completing your application

The law has changed, and you are now legally required to consider mediation before applying to the family court to resolve a dispute about your children or finances. This means that before submitting your application, you must attend a Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM) to find out about mediation and see if mediators can help you sort out arrangements for the future.

In special circumstances – such as where domestic violence is involved – you may not need to attend a MIAM. However, you will be asked to provide the judge with evidence (such as a police report to prove domestic violence has taken place) and should bring it to the first hearing.

Who are mediators and what do they do?

Mediators are trained professionals who can help you and the other person involved work out an agreement without having to go to court about issues such as arrangements for children, financial arrangements and dividing up property.

How can mediation help?

Mediation gives you more control over what happens, and is usually less stressful and cheaper than going to court. It can also be quicker and less upsetting for you and your children. In the MIAM, you will be told about other options to resolve your dispute and about services that can provide you with help and support.

Where can I find a mediator or more information?

{ EMBED PBrush }

You can search for a mediator and find more information about mediation (and other sources of help) using this website: www.familymediationcouncil.org.uk/. You can also scan this QR code with your smart phone.

Do I have to pay for the MIAM?

The MIAM is free of charge if you or the other person involved (the other party) qualifies for legal aid. To find out if you qualify visit: www.gov.uk/check-legal-aid

Please read the statements below and sign to confirm your understanding

1. I understand that if I have not attended a Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM), the court CANNOT process my court application unless there are special circumstances.
2. I understand that if I cannot show evidence that I do not need to attend a MIAM, the judge may stop proceedings until I have considered mediation.

2. Requirement to attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM)

Before making an application for a child arrangements order, prohibited steps order or specific issue order (a section 8 order) you must first attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM). At the MIAM an authorised family mediator will consider with you (and the other party if present) whether family mediation, or another form of non-court dispute resolution, would be a more appropriate alternative to court. The mediator will also be able to sign post you to other help and support services.

You must have attended a MIAM before making this application unless the requirement to attend a MIAM does not apply because the section 8 order you are applying for:

- is for a consent order; or
- concerns a child who is the subject of separate ongoing emergency proceedings, care proceedings or supervision proceedings (or is already the subject of an emergency, care or supervision order); or
- you are exempt from the requirement to attend a MIAM. (Some exemptions you can claim yourself, others must be certified by an authorised family mediator).

All applicants must complete sections 1, 2 and 5 to 14 before signing this form.

In addition, you must tick one of the boxes below and ensure that you, your legal adviser or a family mediator completes (and where indicated signs) the relevant section(s) of this form as shown.

2a. If you ticked 'Yes' to the question on page 1 about current or previous court cases, are/were any of those cases about an emergency protection, care or supervision order?	{ FORMCHECKBOX } Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No { FORMCHECKBOX }	If Yes, complete section 5 to provide additional details. Do not complete sections 3 and 4 If No, please answer question 2b.
2b. Are you claiming exemption from the requirement to attend a MIAM?	{ FORMCHECKBOX } Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No { FORMCHECKBOX }	If Yes, complete section 3. If No, please answer question 2c.
2c. Has a family mediator informed you that a mediator's exemption applies, and you do not need to attend a MIAM?	{ FORMCHECKBOX } Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No { FORMCHECKBOX }	If Yes, you must ensure that the family mediator completes and signs section 4a. If No, please answer question 2d.
2d. Have you attended a MIAM?	{ FORMCHECKBOX } Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No { FORMCHECKBOX }	If Yes, you must ensure that the family mediator completes and signs section 4b. If No, you cannot make this application.

3. Applicant claims exemption(s) from attendance at a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM)

The applicant has not attended a MIAM because the following MIAM exemption(s) applies:

(To be completed by the person intending to make a court application or their solicitor)

{ FORMCHECKBOX } Urgency (you must complete section 3c)

{ FORMCHECKBOX } Previous MIAM attendance or previous MIAM exemption (you must complete section 3d)

- { FORMCHECKBOX } the prospective applicant does not have sufficient contact details for any of the prospective respondents to enable a family mediator to contact any of the prospective respondents for the purpose of scheduling the MIAM.
- { FORMCHECKBOX } the application would be made without notice (Paragraph 5.1 of Practice Direction 18A sets out the circumstances in which applications may be made without notice.)
- { FORMCHECKBOX } (i) the prospective applicant is or all of the prospective respondents are subject to a disability or other inability that would prevent attendance at a MIAM unless appropriate facilities can be offered by an authorised mediator; (ii) the prospective applicant has contacted as many authorised family mediators as have an office within fifteen miles of his or her home (or three of them if there are three or more), and all have stated that they are unable to provide such facilities; and (iii) the names, postal addresses and telephone numbers or e-mail addresses for such authorised family mediators, and the dates of contact, can be provided to the court if requested.

- { FORMCHECKBOX } the prospective applicant or all of the prospective respondents are not habitually resident in England and Wales.
- { FORMCHECKBOX } a child is one of the prospective parties by virtue of Rule 12.3(1).
- { FORMCHECKBOX } (i) the prospective applicant has contacted as many authorised family mediators as have an office within fifteen miles of his or her home (or three of them if there are three or more), and all of them have stated that they are not available to conduct a MIAM within fifteen business days of the date of contact; and (ii) the names, postal addresses and telephone numbers or e-mail addresses for such authorised family mediators, and the dates of contact, can be provided to the court if requested.

{ FORMCHECKBOX } there is no authorised family mediator with an office within fifteen miles of

Relevant sections of this application will be provided to Cafcass/CAFCASS CYMRU upon issue of proceedings. The information contained in this form enables Cafcass/CAFCASS CYMRU to conduct enquiries prior to the first court hearing. Specify in the box the nature of the order you seek

You need to complete this form if you want to ask the court to make an (or change an existing) order about a child(ren) and your application is for:

- a child arrangements order (where a child should live, who a child should spend time with or both); or
- a specific issue order (for example, if you are asking the court to decide whether a child's surname should be changed); or
- a prohibited steps order (for example, if you are asking the court to prevent a person from removing a child from a school).

These orders are known as 'Section 8 orders' and are orders made by the court under section 8 of the Children Act 1989 to decide issues in relation to a child. You must tick the relevant box on page 1 to indicate which type of order(s) you are applying for. (If you wish to ask the court to enforce a previous Section 8 order you need to complete a different court form – Form 'C79 (Application related to enforcement of a child arrangements order)').

If you have any concerns about the risk of harm, tick the relevant box(s) and complete a separate Form C1A (Allegations of harm and domestic violence) and give this to the court with your completed Form C100.

Tick whether you are asking permission to make this application (and if so complete section 5a)

Tick whether the application is urgent (and if so complete section 6a) or whether the application is to be made without notice to another party (and if so complete section 6b)

Tick whether there are linked proceedings (and if so complete section 7). When providing information about linked proceedings, please provide as much detail as possible about previous or current court cases that you are aware of in relation to the child(ren).

Tick whether your application is for an order to formalise an agreement (consent order) and if so attach the draft order to this form.

Tick whether your case has an international element or whether there are any factors that affect the ability of any party to these proceedings to participate in proceedings.

Answer questions 2a to 2d about whether there are parallel proceedings for an emergency protection, care or supervision order, whether a MIAM exemption applies or whether you have attended a MIAM.

If a family mediator needs to certify that a mediator's exemption applies you must ask them to complete section 14a of this form and sign where shown.

If you have attended a MIAM you must ask the family mediator who conducted it to complete section 14b of the form and sign where shown.

General information for completing this form

Requirement to attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting

1. It is now a legal requirement that, unless an exemption applies, a person who wishes to apply to court for one or more of the orders listed at paragraph 1 of these notes must first attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting. (a MIAM). At the stage before proceedings the other party (the respondent) is expected to attend either the same MIAM or a separate MIAM.

2. At the MIAM, a trained family mediator will give you (the applicant) and the other person if present (the respondent) information about family mediation and other types of non-court dispute resolution. They will consider with you whether non-court dispute resolution would be an appropriate way to resolve the dispute. It is then for the applicant and respondent to decide whether or not to do so.

3. The requirement for the applicant to attend a MIAM does not apply if a Section 8 order is being applied for and:

- the other person is in agreement about what you are asking the court to order (the order is a 'consent order'); or
- there is an ongoing case about the child(ren) who would be the subject of the Section 8 application and that case concerns an emergency protection order, a supervision order or a care order, or if one of those orders has previously been made.

4. You must tick the relevant box in Section 2 of this form so that the court knows whether the MIAM requirement applies, whether an exemption applies (and why) or whether you have attended a MIAM.

MIAM exemptions and MIAM attendance

5. As the applicant you are expected to have contacted an authorised family mediator in order to make arrangements to attend a MIAM unless:

- the MIAM requirement does not apply for one of the reasons explained at paragraph 9 of these notes, or
- you are claiming a MIAM exemption, or a family mediator certifies that a mediator's exemption applies.

6. You can find an authorised family mediator by using the 'Find your local mediator' search facility available at: www.familymediationcouncil.org.uk

7. You should give the mediator the contact details of the other person so that the family mediator can contact them to check their willingness to attend a MIAM. If the other persons (or none of the other persons if there is more than one respondent) is or are unwilling to attend a MIAM this is a ground for the family mediator to exempt you from attending a MIAM.

8. If you or your solicitor believe that you have grounds for claiming exemption from MIAM attendance you or your solicitor must tick the relevant box in Section 2 of this form and complete Section 13.

9. If a family mediator wishes to certify that a mediator's exemption applies, so that you do not need to attend a MIAM, you must ask the family mediator to complete Section 14a of this form and sign it where shown.

10. If you have attended a MIAM you must ask the family mediator who conducted the MIAM to complete Section 14b of this form and sign it where shown.

11. If you claim a MIAM exemption and make an application to the court, the court will inquire into the grounds for exemption. The court may ask you to produce written evidence (see Section 13 of this form for details against each exemption shown).

12. If the court determines that the exemption was not validly claimed it may direct you, or you and the other party, to attend a MIAM and, if the case has already progressed to the first hearing, may adjourn the case to enable you to make arrangements to attend a MIAM.

13. The detailed procedure relating to the MIAM requirement and MIAM exemptions and attendance is set out in Part 3 of the Family Procedure Rules and in supporting Practice Direction 3A (judicial guidance). These are available online at: www.justice.gov.uk/courts/procedure-rules/family/practice_directions/pd_part_03a

Paying for MIAM attendance or for family mediation

14. Legal aid is available for MIAMs and for family mediation. If you are eligible for legal aid you could receive both the MIAM and mediation sessions free of charge, as well as some advice from a solicitor to support you in the mediation process.

15. If you, or the prospective respondent, is eligible for Legal Aid then the total cost of MIAM attendance can be met by the Legal Aid Agency, whether you and the prospective respondent attend the same MIAM or separate MIAMs.

16. If neither you nor the respective respondent is eligible for Legal Aid then the mediator will agree with you how the cost of MIAM attendance is to be met.

17. See paragraph 33 below on how to find out whether you are eligible for Legal Aid.

Safety and MIAM attendance

18. Please note: the family mediator will discuss with you and with the other person whether you wish to attend the MIAM separately or together. Family mediators have a responsibility to ensure the safety and security of all concerned and will always check with each of you that attending together is your individual choice and is safe.

Information about mediation

19. If suitable, mediation can be a better way of resolving issues about arrangements for children when you and your partner separate or divorce. Mediation can be less expensive than going to court and much less stressful for all the family. It can also help you as parents to focus on your child(ren)'s needs in making decisions about them.

20. Family Mediation is an impartial process that involves an independent third person who assists both parties involved in a family dispute to reach a resolution. Family mediation can be used to settle any or all of the following issues:

- Arrangements for children
- Financial arrangements and dividing up property
- Any combination of these
- Any other disputes to do with separation and divorce.

21. Family Mediation is not just for divorcing or separating couples – it is a means for resolving a range of family disputes, whether they arise from divorce or the separation of cohabiting parents. Family Mediation could also help resolve issues with wider family members such as grandparents.

22. The family mediator helps the process of negotiation between the parties to agree their own arrangements by way of a Memorandum of Understanding. You can ask a solicitor, if you have one, to check the Memorandum of Understanding.

23. If both parties agree, you can ask the court to endorse what you have agreed by issuing a consent order. The mediator will help you to decide whether your case is complicated and does in fact need the court to consider your situation and make an order. The mediator should also tell you about other local services and options for resolving your dispute.

24. A statutory Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM) is reserved for “authorised mediators” under the Family Procedure Rules. “Authorised family mediator” means a person identified by the Family Mediation Council as qualified to conduct a MIAM. “Qualified to conduct a MIAM” is interpreted as holding current Family Mediation Council accreditation (FMCA). FMCA mediators

26. The family mediator who undertakes the MIAM for you must be a member of a national mediation organisation which adheres to the Family Mediation Council's Code of Conduct and the mediator must be authorised to conduct MIAMS. The service finder will help you find such a local mediator.

27. You can find out more about legal aid for family matters, including whether you may be eligible for legal aid, on the Legal Aid Information Service on the Gov.UK site at: www.gov.uk/check-legal-aid or you can telephone the Civil Legal Advice direct helpline 0345 345 4345.

A non-molestation order requires that the person against whom the order has been made may not be violent or threaten violence, harass, pester or annoy the person who applied for the order, by any means, including social media (text messages, Facebook etc.).

The different types of orders that can be applied for under section 8 of the Children Act 1989 are as follows:

Section 1

About You

If you do not wish your contact details to be made known to the respondent, leave the space on the form blank and complete Confidential contact details (form C8). The court can give you this form. It should be sent to the court at the same time as you submit this form.

Section 2 – Further Information

1. Incidents of domestic violence/abuse and their outcomes

The definitions of harm and domestic violence/abuse are set out on page one of the form

This section is to outline the nature and frequency of the abuse experienced by you or the child(ren) and any action that may have taken place as a consequence.

The first part asks what type of abuse that you or the child(ren) may have experienced.

The second part asks if you have any of the following court orders, when they were issued, how long they are for, and which court they were made in.

Non-molestation order – requires that the person against whom the order has been made may not be violent or threaten violence, harass, pester or annoy the person who applied for the order

Occupation order – sets out who can live in a property and can exclude a person totally from the property or prohibit a person from entering certain rooms within the property.

Forced Marriage Protection Order – can require that a person's passport is surrendered, prohibit intimidation and violence, order a person to reveal the whereabouts of a person and stop someone from being taken abroad for the purpose of being forced into marriage.

Restraining order – prohibits the convicted person from further conduct which causes harassment or will cause a fear of violence.

Other injunctive order – any other injunction you may have obtained against the person whom you are alleging harm.

If you have been granted any of the above orders please attach copies of the orders with the form.

2. Information about incidents

The table is intended to give a short description of what happened and relevant information. The following is a brief description of what is required in each column:

Approximate date/when/how long did the behaviour continue – this can be either specific/approximate dates of individual incidents, or a timeframe over which multiple incidents occurred.

Nature of behaviour/what happened – a brief description on the incidents, please note that you can describe the same type of behaviour that happened over a period of time in one entry.

Have you ever sought help? If so, from who? – This could be the police, social services, your doctor, a medical professional, a voluntary sector worker, the Citizen's Advice Bureau or any agency you may have approached for help. It could also be a friend or family member.

Did they do anything? – What help did they give you? Were you referred to anyone else? Is there any ongoing contact with them?

Section 3 – Abduction

This section asks about any concerns you may have about a child being abducted from your care.

'Child abduction' is the wrongful removal of a child from any person having, or entitled to, lawful control of that child.

'International child abduction' is the wrongful removal or wrongful retention away from the country where the child usually lives.

If the child has a passport it is important that you fill in the section about who is in possession of the child's passport.

Section 4

Are there any other concerns you would like to raise regarding your Child(ren)?

This section is for any concerns not already raised in the form regarding the child's safety and wellbeing.

Section 5

Attending the Court

This section asks if you require any special measures put in place when you attend court. The court will try to supply you and your witnesses with a separate waiting area and the other measures listed. However, this is not always possible and can depend on the court facilities as to whether these measures are available.

Response to allegations of harm (page 9)

This section should only be filled in if the other party (the applicant) has served a completed form C1A and has sent it to the respondent.

If no form C1A is sent in with the application for an order the respondent themselves will need to complete the form C1A to be returned with form C7 Response to an application under the Children Act 1989.

What steps or orders do you want the court to take or make to protect the safety of the child(ren) and/or yourself?

Non-molestation order: The court may decide to make a non-molestation order under Part IV of the Family Law Act 1996. A non-molestation order requires that the person against whom the order has been made may not be violent or threaten violence, harass, pester or annoy the person who applied for the order, by any means, including social media (text messages, Facebook etc.).

The different types of orders that can be applied for under section 8 of the Children Act 1989 are as follows:

Prohibited Steps: this prevents a parent from taking a particular action as set out in the order without the permission of the court. This also applies to actions by any other person named in the order.

Specific issue: this decides specific questions e.g. about education, medical treatment or a foreign holiday or visit where parents or those with parental responsibility cannot agree.

Our Advice

What are Child Arrangement Orders?

Child Arrangement Orders (CAO) regulate arrangements relating to children when parents separate. I have detailed below the types of CAO which are available.

CAO – Residence

The Court may make an order naming the person a child will live with. The Court may also make an order that a child will live with both parents, and will specify when the child will live in each household.

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\neilb\\OneDrive - PRACCTICE
LTD\\Documents\\OspreyOfficeGateway\\footer.doc"}

The benefit of having a CAO for residence is that you are able to take the child abroad for up to one month without the other parent's consent or the Court's permission.

A parent without a CAO for residence would have to have the permission of the other parent. If the parent does not give permission, it is possible to make an application to the Court for them to determine whether the child should be allowed to go on the holiday. In this case, this order is called a Specific Issue Order (which I will give further details of below).

CAO – Contact

A CAO for contact sets out when each parent will have contact with the child. This is useful when parents cannot decide if or when the child should have contact with the other parent.

There are different types of contact which can be ordered, depending on each family's circumstances.

Direct contact involves the child having contact with a named person, either by visiting them or staying with them. The Court, so long as it is safe to do so, prefer to approve arrangements where children have direct contact in order to maintain a relationship with the other parent. Indirect contact is contact between a person and child which does not take place face to face. This can be, for example, by e-mail, telephone, video calling or sending letters, cards and presents on special occasions such as birthdays and Christmas.

It is typical for babies and very young children to begin having contact with the other parent during short but frequent contact visits, and progress to longer and possibly overnight visits as they get older. If, for example, a child has not seen the other parents for a substantial amount of time, the Court may make an order for indirect contact to begin with, gradually increasing to direct contact over a set period of time in order to reintroduce the child and parent. This can then lead to overnight stays in the future, if appropriate.

If the Court believes that there is a risk to a child's welfare through direct contact, they may order that the contact is supervised. For direct contact, this could mean seeing the child at a dedicated Contact Centre where staff will keep an eye on the contact session. It could also be a relative or friend being present during contact, perhaps in a public location. If no welfare concerns are raised during contact, it can progress to unsupervised contact.

When do CAO end?

A CAO for contact will end when the child is 16 years old, or in exception circumstances, 18 years old. The Court can, however, stipulate how long the order should remain in place.

For residence, this ends when the child is 18 years old.

Please note, however, that if both parents live together for a continuous period of six months after the order has been made, it will immediately come to an end.

Who can apply for a CAO?

There are, in fact, several people who can apply for a CAO other than the child's natural parents. In addition, the following can also apply:

- A step-parent or any person who has been granted Parental Responsibility for a child either by agreement or by Court order.
- A guardian or special guardian.
- Any person named as the person a child will live with in an existing CAO.
- Any person who is married to or in a civil partnership with the parent of a child who has been treated as part of the family.
- A person who the child has lived with for three years. This does not need to be a continuous period, however it must not have started longer than five years before the application is made, nor ended less than three months before the application is made.
- Any person who has the consent of the Local Authority where the child is in the Local Authority's care.

Anyone who does not fall within the above categories must apply for permission from the Court to make an application for a CAO. This would be the case for grandparents wishing to have contact with grandchildren.

Specific Issue Orders

A SIO is helpful where the parties cannot agree on a specific issue and require the Court's assistance to do so. An application can be made for things such as taking a child on holiday where the other parent does not give their permission, or deciding what school a child should attend, or whether a child should have a certain type of medical treatment.

Prohibited Steps Orders

PSO are designed to prohibit someone from doing something. They can also apply to people who are not party to the proceedings, for example a parent's new partner or friend.

For example, applications can be made where a parent intends to move abroad with the child. If the other parent has not given their permission to this and believes that the parent is going to go ahead with the move they can make an application to prohibit this. It would then be for the parent intending on moving to make an application for a specific issue order for the Court to determine whether the move should be allowed or not.

The parties can make an ex-parte, or 'without notice', application to the Court. This is appropriate where the person making the application believes that if they notified the other parent it would frustrate the application being made or put themselves or the child in immediate risk of harm. The Court will hear the application and may make an order, if they find it reasonable to do so, to prohibit the other parent from doing something. This would be particularly relevant to the above example if the parent intending to leave had made it known that they were leaving forthwith.

How to make an application

The Court, other than in 'without notice' situations, require the parties to have attempted mediation. They far prefer parents reach an agreement outside Court as this is a much quicker for all involved, less costly, and tends to lead to less rancour between the parties.

If, however, mediation does not work, an application can be made.

There first Court appointment is referred to as a First Hearing Dispute Resolution Appointment (FHDRA).

During this hearing, the Court identifies the issues in dispute with a view to resolving them as quickly and inexpensively as possible. All parties to the application must attend the FHDRA.

Prior to the FHDRA, a Welfare Officer from the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (CAFCASS) will have a telephone appointment with you and with the other parent. They will undertake some checks with the Court to look for prior applications, and with the police to check for any criminal records which may be of relevance to the application.

CAFCASS then prepare a short report, referred to as the 'Safeguarding Letter' which is usually made available to the parties and Court prior to the hearing. It outlines the parties' positions, any relevant Court or police information and any recommendations from CAFCASS. Depending on each situation, CAFCASS may make recommendations for drug or alcohol testing of one or both parents if issues surrounding those have been raised, or that a Section 8 Report is prepared, amongst other things.

A Section 8 Report is prepared by a CAFCASS social worker. Over a period of approximately eight weeks, the social worker will meet with you, the other parent and the child in order to investigate the issues raised by each parent and make recommendations for contact or living arrangements.

If CAFCASS do not believe a Section 8 Report is necessary, and both parties are able to reach an agreement in relation to the issues at the FHDRA, the Court may make a final order at this stage. It is of course best if this can be achieved, as it will save considerable time, money and stress for both parties and the children, since Court proceedings can be lengthy, taking around six to 12 months from start to final hearing (if required).

If, however, the parties cannot reach an agreement, or CAFCASS believe the Section 8 Report is necessary, then there will be a further hearing listed called a Dispute Resolution Appointment (DRA).

If a S8 Report has been prepared, this will usually be provided to all parties prior to the DRA so the recommendations can be considered in advance. Depending on the outcome of the S8 Report, and whether the parties can make an agreement, it is possible for the matter to be concluded at that point and a final order made. If, however, further information is required, the Court may list another DRA. If it is a case of the S8 Report recommendations being clear, but the parties cannot agree on them, a final hearing will be listed. If there is no S8 Report but the parties still cannot agree arrangements at the DRA, a final hearing will be listed.

At the final hearing, the parties will be cross-examined. It is quite an unpleasant experience, and therefore it is always best if parties can reach an agreement prior to the final hearing so they can avoid this. If the matter has reached the final hearing stage, the Court will determine what order to make and the parties will have no say in the arrangements made. I therefore encourage all clients to attempt to reach an agreement in as amicable a way as possible in order to limit the expense and stress that comes with making applications to the Court.

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

I write to confirm that the First Hearing Dispute Resolution Appointment will take place on { MERGEFIELD PRI_CH_ORG_FW_CH_FHDRAMDATE \@ "d MMMM yyyy" } at COURT.

Please ensure you are available to attend this hearing. You must attend Court at TIME.

At the first hearing, the Court will look at the issues raised by both parties and will determine whether it is necessary to investigate any of the issues further, for example by ordering a further report from CAFCASS, or obtaining medical reports or drug and alcohol testing (where appropriate).

It is possible to conclude matters at the first hearing, usually in cases where there are no allegations of serious harm to either the child or other parent, and the parties wish to set out the arrangements for contact. This is only possible where the parents are able to reach an agreement at Court so a final order can be made.

If it is not possible to reach an agreement, or further investigation is required, then the Court will list a further hearing called a Dispute Resolution Appointment (DRA).

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\neilb\\OneDrive - PRACCTICE
LTD\\Documents\\OspreyOfficeGateway\\footer.doc"}

It is common for the Court to order a further report from CAFCASS (called a Section 8 Report) which will be completed prior to the DRA. It takes around eight to 10 weeks for CAFCASS to complete their report, where they will interview you, the other parent and the child(ren). In the report, they will set out their discussions with each parent and the information they have gained from speaking with the child(ren). They will also make recommendations to the Court regarding the contact that each parent should have. You should be aware that the Court does not have to follow the advice recommended by CAFCASS, however it is unusual for the Court to go against the recommendations.

At the DRA, the parties will be encouraged to reach an agreement so a final order can be made, meaning a Final Hearing where both parents would need to give evidence is not necessary.

If it is not possible to reach an agreement at the DRA, then a Final Hearing will be necessary and you and the other parent (and often CAFCASS) will be cross examined. At the final hearing, the Court will make the final order based on the evidence given by you and the other parent, and CAFCASS' recommendations. Neither parent will have a say in the outcome as it will solely be the Court's decision and the Court will usually follow CAFCASS' recommendations for contact. I will of course provide you with further information regarding the final hearing at a later date, if it is likely that this matter will go to final hearing.

If you have any queries please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely

FM1 - MIAM Form

Family Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM)

To be completed by the court
The Family Court sitting at { FORMTEXT }
Case reference { FORMTEXT }

Before completing this form please read the information notes at the end of the form. This form is only to be used when making an application to the court on form C1 or C2 for one of the orders shown below.

Before completing this form please also read the leaflet 'CB1 – Making an application – Children and the Family Courts' and the leaflet CB7 - Guide for separated parents: children and the family courts. These leaflets are available from your local court or online at hmctsformfinder.justice.gov.uk

Full name of applicant(s)

{ FORMTEXT }

Full name of respondent(s)

{ FORMTEXT }

If you are making an application on form C1 or C2 for any of the following types of Children Act 1989 order, you must first attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM):

- A parental responsibility order (sections 4(1)(c), 4ZA(1)(c) or 4A(1)(b) of the Children Act 1989) or an order terminating parental responsibility (sections 4(2A), 4ZA(5) or 4A(3) of that Act).
- An order appointing a child's guardian (section 5(1) of the Children Act 1989) or an order terminating the appointment (section 6(7) of that Act).
- An order giving permission to change a child's surname or remove a child from the United Kingdom (sections 13(1) or 14C of the Children Act 1989).
- A special guardianship order or an order varying or discharging such an order (section 14D of the Children Act 1989).

This completed FM1 form must be sent to the family court, together with the relevant completed application form C1 or C2. This FM1 form is not an application form for a court order.

1. Requirement to attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM)

Before making an application for a

- A parental responsibility order (sections 4(1)(c), 4ZA(1)(c) or 4A(1)(b) of the Children Act 1989) or an order terminating parental responsibility (sections 4(2A), 4ZA(5) or 4A(3) of that Act).
- An order appointing a child's guardian (section 5(1) of the Children Act 1989) or an order terminating the appointment (section 6(7) of that Act).
- An order giving permission to change a child's surname or remove a child from the United Kingdom (sections 13(1) or 14C of the Children Act 1989).
- A special guardianship order or an order varying or discharging such an order (section 14D of the Children Act 1989).

You must first attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM). At the MIAM an authorised family mediator will consider with you (and the other party if present) whether family mediation, or another form of noncourt dispute resolution, would be a more appropriate alternative to court. The mediator will also be able to sign post you to other help and support services.

You must have attended a MIAM before making this application unless the requirement to attend a MIAM does not apply because the Children Act 1989 order you are applying for:

- is for a consent order; or
- concerns a child who is the subject of separate ongoing emergency proceedings, care proceedings or supervision proceedings (or is already the subject of an emergency, care or supervision order); or
- you are exempt from the requirement to attend a MIAM. (Some exemptions you can claim yourself, others must be certified by an authorised family mediator).

In special circumstances such as where domestic violence is involved you may not need to attend a MIAM. However, you will be asked to provide the judge with evidence (such as a police report to prove domestic violence has taken place) and should bring it to the first hearing.

All applicants must complete section 1 and sign section 3 of this form.

In addition, you must tick one of the boxes below and ensure that you, your solicitor or a family mediator completes (and where indicated signs) the relevant section(s) of this form as shown.

General information for completing this form

1. You need to complete this form and send it to the court with a completed application form C1 or C2 if you want to ask the court to make an (or change an existing) order about a child(ren) and your application is for:
 - A parental responsibility order (sections 4(1)(c), 4ZA(1)(c) or 4A(1)(b) of the Children Act 1989) or an order terminating parental responsibility (sections 4(2A), 4ZA(5) or 4A(3) of that Act).
 - An order appointing a child's guardian (section 5(1) of the Children Act 1989) or an order terminating the appointment (section 6(7) of that Act).
 - An order giving permission to change a child's surname or remove a child from the United Kingdom (sections 13(1) or 14C of the Children Act 1989).
 - A special guardianship order or an order varying or discharging such an order (section 14D of the Children Act 1989).

Requirement to attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting

2. It is now a legal requirement that, unless an exemption applies, a person who wishes to apply to court for one or more of the orders listed at paragraph 1 of these notes must first attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting (a MIAM). At the stage before proceedings the other party (the respondent) is expected to attend either the same MIAM or a separate MIAM.
3. At the MIAM, a trained family mediator will give you (the applicant) and the other person if present (the respondent) information about family mediation and other types of non-court dispute resolution. They will consider with you whether non-court dispute resolution would be an appropriate way to resolve the dispute. It is then for the applicant and respondent to decide whether or not to do so.
4. The requirement for the applicant to attend a MIAM does not apply if a Children Act 1989 order is being applied for and:
 - the other person is in agreement about what you are asking the court to order (the order is a "consent order"); or
 - there is an ongoing case about the child(ren) who would be the subject of the new Children Act 1989 application and that case concerns an emergency protection order, a supervision order or a care order, or if one of those orders has previously been made.

5. You must tick the relevant box in Section 1 of this form so that the court knows whether the MIAM requirement applies, whether an exemption applies (and why) or whether you have attended a MIAM.

MIAM exemptions and MIAM attendance

6. As the applicant you are expected to have contacted an authorised family mediator in order to make arrangements to attend a MIAM unless :
 - the MIAM requirement does not apply for one of the reasons explained at paragraph 4 of these notes, or
 - you are claiming a MIAM exemption, or a family mediator certifies that a mediator's exemption applies.
7. You can find an authorised family mediator by using the 'Find your local mediator' search facility available at: www.familymediationcouncil.org.uk
8. You should give the mediator the contact details of the other person so that the family mediator can contact them to check their willingness to attend a MIAM. If the other persons (or none of the other persons if there is more than one respondent) is or are unwilling to attend a MIAM this is a ground for the family mediator to exempt you from attending a MIAM.
9. If you or your solicitor believe that you have grounds for claiming exemption from MIAM attendance you or your solicitor must tick the relevant box in Section 1 of this form and complete Section 2.
10. If a family mediator wishes to certify that a mediator's exemption applies, so that you do not need to attend a MIAM, you must ask the family mediator to complete Section 4a of this form and sign it where shown.
11. If you have attended a MIAM you must ask the family mediator who conducted the MIAM to complete Section 4b of this form and sign it where shown.
12. If you claim a MIAM exemption and make an application to the court, the court will inquire into the grounds for exemption. The court may ask you to produce written evidence (see Section 2 of this form for details against each exemption shown).
13. If the court determines that the exemption was not validly claimed it may direct you, or you and the other party, to attend a MIAM and, if the case has already progressed to the first hearing, may adjourn the case to enable to make arrangements to attend a MIAM.

14. The detailed procedure relating to the MIAM requirement and MIAM exemptions and attendance is set out in Part 3 of the Family Procedure Rules and in supporting Practice Direction 3A (judicial guidance). These are available online at: www.justice.gov.uk/courts/procedure-rules/family/practice_directions/pd_part_03a

Paying for MIAM attendance or for family mediation

15. Legal aid is available for MIAMs and for family mediation. If you are eligible for legal aid you could receive both the MIAM and mediation sessions free of charge, as well as some advice from a solicitor to support you in the mediation process.
16. If you, or the prospective respondent, is eligible for Legal Aid then the total cost of MIAM attendance can be met by the Legal Aid Agency, whether you and the prospective respondent attend the same MIAM or separate MIAMs.
17. If neither you nor the respective respondent is eligible for Legal Aid then the mediator will agree with you how the cost of MIAM attendance is to be met.
18. See paragraph 27 below on how to find out whether you are eligible for Legal Aid.

Safety and MIAM attendance

19. Please note: the family mediator will discuss with you and with the other person whether you wish to attend the MIAM separately or together. Family mediators have a responsibility to ensure the safety and security of all concerned and will always check with each of you that attending together is your individual choice and is safe.

Information about mediation

20. If suitable, mediation can be a better way of resolving issues about arrangements for children when you and your partner separate or divorce. Mediation can be less expensive than going to court and much less stressful for all the family. It can also help you as parents to focus on your child(ren)'s needs in making decisions about them.
21. Family Mediation is an impartial process that involves an independent third person who assists both parties involved in a family dispute to reach a resolution. Family mediation can be used to settle any or all of the following issues:
- Arrangements for children
 - Financial arrangements and dividing up property
 - Any combination of these
 - Any other disputes to do with separation and divorce.

22. Family Mediation is not just for divorcing or separating couples – it is a means for resolving a range of family disputes, whether they arise from divorce or the separation of cohabiting parents. Family Mediation could also help resolve issues with wider family members such as grandparents.
23. The family mediator helps the process of negotiation between the parties to agree their own arrangements by way of a Memorandum of Understanding. You can ask a solicitor, if you have one, to check the Memorandum of Understanding.
24. If both parties agree, you can ask the court to endorse what you have agreed by issuing a consent order. The mediator will help you to decide whether your case is complicated and does in fact need the court to consider your situation and make an order. The mediator should also tell you about other local services and options for resolving your dispute.
25. A statutory Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM) is reserved for “authorised mediators” under the Family Procedure Rules. “Authorised family mediator” means a person identified by the Family Mediation Council as qualified to conduct a MIAM. “Qualified to conduct a MIAM” is interpreted as holding current Family Mediation Council accreditation (FMCA). FMCA mediators are issued with a unique FMC registration number. Authorised mediators are requested to enter this number in the box provided.
